

Short CV of Dr. Michael Fübi

Dr. Fübi (39) is responsible at RWE Power for the department Climate Protection since the end of 2005 with the major task of development and implementation of climate protection projects (CDM- and JI projects).

Before he managed the fuel cell activities of the RWE group.

Dr. Fübi has an engineering and commercial background and started his career at Babcock Borsig with a trainee program. Afterwards he was responsible for the water engineering activities, the power plant service activities and finally – through his alternation to RWE at the beginning of 2002 – for corporate development.